Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 29 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain in west, drier and warmer in east.

Today:
Heavy, persistent rain across the western Highlands edges north with lighter, patchier rain in the southwest largely dying out. Some bright or warm sunny spells across eastern Scotland but still the risk of a little rain. Strong gusty southwesterly winds.

Tonight:
Further heavy persistent rain across the Northwest Highlands and the Northern Isles and patchy rain and drizzle developing in the southwest. Meanwhile eastern parts remain largely dry with clear spells.

Tuesday:
The Northern Isles and western Scotland remain cloudy with rain, the heavier more persistent rain in northwest edging back south. Eastern Scotland once again seeing some warm spells of sunshine.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Outbreaks of rain, with hill snow, on Wednesday morning but becoming drier and brighter from north in afternoon. Thursday and Friday, colder, overnight frosts, but largely dry with sunny spells.
